HAWAIIAN DEBATE.

Mr. Bland's Bill For the Coinage of the Silver Seigniorage.

A CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

Three Important Subjects Will Be Disposed of in the House This Week—The Senate Will Take Final Action on the Repeal of the Federal Elections Bill. Program of the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Hawaiian debate, Mr. Bland's bill for the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury, the O'Neill-Joy contested election case, and perhaps the fortifications appropriation bill will occupy the attention of the house during the coming week.

By an arrangement agreed upon just before the house adjourned Saturday the Hawaiian debate is to be extended until 3:30 Tuesday, the special order for its consideration being modified so as to include a provision for a vote upon the Bottelle resolution as well as the McCreary and Hitt resolutions.

The extension of the time will serve the purpose of definitely disposing of Hawaii in the house, inasmuch as on Tuesday, had the order not been modified, it was Mr. Bottelle's intention to come to the front with his resolution. As it was a privileged question it could not have been put aside and might have resulted in additional complications, so that the Democratic leaders concluded that the shortest way out of the difficulty would be to agree to a compromise.

As yet no Democrat has broken over party lines on the Hawaiian matter, as far as debate is concerned, and it seems likely that the McCreary resolution will pass by practically a strict party vote.

Mr. Holman, however, is still bent upon offering his resolution condemning the action of Mr. Stevens, but at the same time reprobating the course of the administration in attempting to restore the deposed queen. How much Democratic strength, if any, this resolution will command, is still problematical.

On Wednesday Mr. Bland will call up his bill for the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury (amounting to over $55,000,000), that sum to be made immediately available if necessary to meet the wants of the treasury by the issuance of treasury notes similar to those issued under the act of 1890. Mr. Bland, and many of his Democratic colleagues, who are bitterly opposed to the bond issue, want to relieve the treasury in this way rather than by the issue of bonds, and it is probable that during the debate there will be a heavy out-cropping of criticism of the action of Secretary Carlisle, in so far as it related to the use of the proceeds of the sale of bonds to pay current expenses of the government.

The Republicans will take the position indicated by the minority report, that there is no silver seigniorage in the treasury, the bullion against which notes were issued under the act 1890 not having been coined. They will also take the position that while the coinage value of the silver in the treasury is $181,914,961, its market value is but $97,136,032, or, in other words, that the silver obligations of the government, coined or uncoined, if issued up to the full coinage value as if silver were at par ($1.29 per ounce) would only be worth about 55 cents on the dollar and could only be sustained by the credit of the government. Mr. Bland expects that the debate upon his bill will not last over two days.

On Friday the O'Neill-Joy contested election case will come up and if disposed of then will be followed by the fortification appropriation bill, it being the intention of the appropriation committee to crowd the appropriation bill forward as soon as the opportunity offers.

During the week a row will probably be precipitated over a publication now going on in the Congressional Record in serial form of Professor George Gunton's "Social Economics." During the last congress, it will be remembered, that under the "general leave to print," granted in connection with the debate on the Springer free wool bill, that a coterie of Democrats, led by Representative Tom Johnson of Ohio, printed (several chapters at a time) all of Henry George's volume, "Progress and Poverty." By printing it as part of the Congressional Record, it became subject to the free franking privilege of members, and in pamphlet form several million copies were distributed free through the mails as campaign documents. The abuse of publication in The Record was then widely commented upon.

Within the last few days the Democrats have noticed that chapters of Gunton's book, 10 or 15 pages at a time, have appeared in connection with Republican speeches, and they are trying to devise some method by which a repetition of the Henry George trick of last session can be checkmated. The Republicans, of course, claim their action is justified by the Democratic precedent, and when the matter comes up, as it probably will this week, the debate will, no doubt, be highly entertaining. The Democrats want to stop further publication before the completion of the volume in order to destroy its value as a campaign document.

Program of the Senate.

WASHINGTON Feb. 5.—The first two days of the present week in the senate will be taken up with the federal elections bill to the exclusion of everything else except the routine morning business, which will include only the introduction of bills and the representation of reports and petitions. The senate has agreed that the discussion of the bond resolution of Senator Stewart, which under ordinary circumstances would have right of way up to 2 o'clock of each day until disposed of, shall go over until Wednesday to permit the uninterrupted continuation of the debate on the elections bill, upon which the vote will be taken Tuesday afternoon.

The agreement provides that the senate shall sit Tuesday until this measure is disposed of and in all probability it will be observed. There is a bare possibility, however, that the debate may not be exhausted by that time and that the disposition of it will not be accomplished then, as agreements of this kind in the senate are not always considered as inviolable.

There is also an agreement that the discussion of the bond resolution shall be resumed on Wednesday and the week is likely to produce several speeches on this question.

Senator Berry has given notice of an intention to call up on Tuesday the bill concerning the rights of way granted to railroads through the public lands in territories; Senator Vest, of his wish to take up the bill for the increase of the accommodations for the government printing office on Wednesday, and Senator Quay, of a desire to have an hour set apart on Thursday for eulogies on the late Representative Mutchler, but all of these orders are liable to change.

It is, indeed, quite certain that Senator Berry's bill will go over because of the order concerning the elections bill.

It is possible that the Hawaiian resolution, introduced by Senator Turpie from the foreign relations committee, or the house resolution on the same subject, which will probably reach the senate during the week, will receive a degree of attention, but it is hardly probable that much, if any, time will be given it because of the other subjects pressing for attention.

ALLOTMENT OF BONDS.

All Bids Naming a Higher Price Than 117.223 Have Been Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Secretary Carlisle has authorized the following statement regarding the allotment of the bonds:

"The secretary of the treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than 117.223. The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5.331 per cent and the amount of bonds allowed under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

"A notice will be sent to each subscriber, advising him of the acceptance of his subscription, informing him when the bonds will be ready, and stating the amount to be deposited in payment of the principal and premium. This accrued interest to the date of deposit, at the rate of interest realized by the subscriber, will be added by the assistant treasurer with whom the deposit is to be made. The bonds will be delivered by the department, after payment is made to the address given by the subscriber, or they may be sent to the assistant treasurer with whom the deposit is made."

Treasury officials express the belief and hope that the larger part of the subscriptions to the bonds will be paid for in gold, this feeling being based on the large amounts already reported as having been deposited in the subtreasury at New York in anticipation of the delivery of the bonds.

DISPENSARY LAWS VIOLATED.

When an Arrest Is Attempted a Battle Follows and Two Men Are Shot.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Feb. 5.—A warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Dean for Ballew, William Sentro, Berrymore and two other sons, at Welford, for violation of the dispensary laws. About 7 o'clock Saturday night, Boyce Dean, the sheriff's deputy and Constable Frank Massey, Jackson West and Pearson went out to make the arrest. They reached Ballew's about midnight, but before they got to the house the whisky was out in a swamp. They saw Berrymore and Dean, ordered them to hold up and surrender. He fired on them. The fire was returned by the posse and Moore was shot through the leg just below the knee. About 20 shots were exchanged. The constables then went to W. Ballew's house and met him in the field. Dean ordered him to hold up his pistols and surrender. He did not obey and Constable Massey shot him in the breast, killing him instantly. No whisky was captured.

The coroner held an inquest, but no verdict has been reached. This took place about a mile and a half east of Welford. Ballew recently moved from the mountains. The Moores also came from the mountains.

STRIKE ON THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

The Employees Will Stop Work in Defiance of the Ruling of the Courts.

TACOMA, Feb. 5.—Cipher advices from chiefs of the Federated North Pacific employees at St. Paul, indicate that a strike will be ordered Tuesday if there is no change in the situation by that time. The federated employees have been notified from St. Paul that the order secured by the receivers restraining employees from striking is, according to the best legal advice, unconstitutional and illegal, and that the company will be wholly responsible for whatever results follow an attempt to enforce the order.

The telegraphers who were to be cut under the new schedule have not been paid, and it is supposed that there will be no cut, provided they refuse to federate and remain with the company during the anticipated fight with the federated employees.

Hotel and Other Buildings Burned.

PURCELL, I. T., Feb. 5.—Fire early Sunday destroyed the general merchandise establishment of Bohart & Bohart, the Perry House and six adjoining buildings. The Perry House was crowded with guests, who had a narrow escape, several losing their clothing. Bohart & Bohart lost $33,000 on stock and building and other losses, bringing the aggregate up to $50,000; partially insured.

ALL CHANGED NOW.

Effect of Admiral Benham's Brazilian Demonstration.

RIO HARBOR NOT BOMBARDED.

Commander Picking Was Requested by Minister Thompson to Do What Admiral Benham Has Done, but Did Not Seem Willing To—Da Gama Different From De Mello.

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 5.—The Associated Press correspondent in this city has made as thorough an investigation as is possible under the circumstances of the causes which led up to the recent demonstration by Admiral Benham in this harbor in defense of American shipping which has been subjected for a long time to the reckless firing of the insurgent fleet.

As a result of the correspondent's inquiries the following facts have been obtained:

So long as Admiral Mello was in charge of the insurgent vessels in Rio bay and the head of the revolutionary movement no blockade was permitted in this harbor. Vessels of foreign nations were permitted freely to enter the bay, discharge their cargoes at the wharves, reload and quietly depart.

When Admiral Da Gama, after issuing his pronunciamento against Peixoto, deserted the government, joined Mello and issued his famous imperial manifesto, he declared with a great deal of emphasis that he meant from that time forth to stop all commerce with Rio Janeiro, and by this means practically destroy the revenue which the Brazilian government was receiving from this source.

England, he announced, as if on the authority of British officials, was anxious for the restoration of the monarchy throughout Brazil and the overthrow of reciprocity.

With this powerful backing he appeared to think that he was fully warranted in his autocratic action. Following close upon this declaration he issued a warning to all vessels, no matter to what nationality they belonged, that they must not attempt to discharge their cargoes or they would rue it. Following this example set by their superior officer, the other insurgent leaders made the same threats.

When information of what they had done reached the ears of the United States minister, Mr. Thompson, he immediately made a vigorous protest, in the course of which he insisted that Admiral Da Gama had no right to institute such a blockade. No matter what the ministers of the other countries thought of the order, Mr. Thompson said he felt it his duty to demand ample protection for all vessels flying the flag of his country.

Minister Thompson did not rest satisfied with the protest, but promptly paid a visit to Commodore Henry F. Picking, who was then in command of the American warships, and asked him in the most decided manner to afford protection to all American vessels.

In reply to Minister Thompson Commander Picking said that if an American sailor was shot while his vessel was in the act of discharging her cargo he would promptly prosecute the captain of the rebel warship which was responsible for the sailor's death.

Beyond this Commander Picking seemed unwilling to go, and Minister Thompson was thus rendered powerless to do anything more for the protection of American shipping.

Now everything is changed, owing to the determined action of Admiral Benham, who has assured the captains of American vessels that he will protect their ships and lighters so far as he is able to do so. At the same time, however, he has warned these captains that he can not prevent them from running the risk of chance shots at the wharves. It is impossible to discharge cargoes elsewhere. All these tugs used in towing the vessels are owned by Brazilians, and Admiral Da Gama threatens to promptly seize them if they tow lighters which are discharging.

Admiral Benham thinks that the risk at the wharves is slight, but he refuses at present to advise American captains how they should act. He is determined, however, to afford them all the protection he can.

The report that the town of Nictheroy has been captured by the insurgents is false. The royal garrison still holds out stubbornly against the bombardment.

The reported sinking of the torpedo boat on Monday, last, was without foundation.

Valuable Horses Burned to Death.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Feb. 5.—Forty-six head of valuable horses were cremated, together with two barns of the Hon. Henry C. Ireland, near here, yesterday. The fire was of incendiary origin. Loss, $10,000.

Death of an Ex-Senator.

WELLS, Minn., Feb. 5.—Morton S. Wilkinson died at his home in this place yesterday aged, 75. Mr. Wilkinson was one of the earliest United States senators from this state and was a Democrat.

Diamond Thief Dhoin Lock Up.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 5.—Chief of Police Farrell has arrived here with Fritz Dhoin, the diamond thief, in irons, whom he caught en route from Arkansas to Alabama last week.

Bold Deeds of Tramps.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 5.—Tramps infested this city to a remarkable degree yesterday. Half a dozen persons were held up by them during daylight. The gang attempted to leave town on a freight train, but were driven back after a sharp battle, during which some were slightly wounded. Seven were arrested.

OVERDUE VESSELS ARRIVE.

They All Report Heavy Gales, High Seas, Headwinds and Rough Weather.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Several badly overdue vessels arrived yesterday and all report heavy gales, high seas, headwinds and generally rough weather.

The German steamer Taormine, Captain Koch, which sailed from Hamburg Jan. 13, was one of the arrivals. Her captain reports having had a tempestuous passage. She presented a remarkable appearance, with only foremast standing, her mainmast having been carried away clean at the deck during the hurricane of Jan. 30, off Sable Island. Captain Koch states that his vessel experienced a succession of heavy westerly gales daily right up to Sable Island.

On Jan. 30 the wind shifted to the northwest and blew a perfect hurricane for several hours, when it shifted to the south and afterwards died out to a dead calm for about two hours; then the wind came out again from west and northwest, blowing a perfect hurricane for 16 hours, with enormous heavy seas, which broke over the ship fore and aft, causing her to roll and pitch heavily. On the 31st at 6 p. m. a mountainous sea broke over the ship, which caused the mainboom to break adrift from its fastenings and swing with great force, owing to the vessel's pitching heavily, against the lee rigging, carrying it clean away. The main mast then went by the board, carrying with it all rigging and gear attached. Fortunately it went over the lee rail without doing further damage than smashing the rail. The vessel was then hove to and the wreckage cleared away.

The steerage passengers were all below at the time, and none of the crew were injured, although the steward, Fred Hubenet, while coming along the after-deck to the cabin, was thrown against the port bulwarks when the vessel lurched and was seriously injured about the head and body. He is still in the ship's hospital. The steamer sustained heavy damage, her captain being broken, forward hatch smashed, bridgework and stanchions carried away, and lifeboats swept overboard. Everything moveable on deck was washed away.

WATCHMAN MURDERED.

It Is Believed That the Crime Was Committed For Revenge.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—John Roos, 50 years of age, a watchman in the San Diego building, 47 River street, was murdered early yesterday morning, his head and face being pounded to jelly with an iron bar. When E. C. Anderson, engineer of the building, entered the engine room at 9 o'clock in the morning, he found Roos lying upon the floor and breathing faintly. He was at once taken to a hospital, but died without regaining consciousness.

For a time the police were unable to determine how the crime had been committed, but finally found an iron bar, used in shaking the furnace grates. It was covered with blood and hair and was undoubtedly the weapon used by the murderer.

Roos was a sober, industrious man, and there was no reason why any one should attempt his life. The police are looking for Charles Kern, a young man who was watchman of the building before Roos, and who was discharged for cause. He is known to have been very bitter against Roos for taking his place. The officers believe the crime was committed for revenge, notwithstanding that $11 in money, Roos' weekly salary, was taken from the body.

Epithets Hurled at a Legislator.

DENVER, Feb. 5.—Colonel A. S. Fisk has sent an open letter to Senator Boyd, who referred to him as a man who never earned an honest dollar, in which he says the senator possesses the combined attributes of the ass, the hog, the polecat, adder and the snake. He also brands the senator as a coward and a poltroon. The senator wrote the colonel a quasi letter of apology for his remarks in the senate, and the colonel would have let the matter drop there had not the senator declared in an interview that he had retracted nothing.

Explosion in a Distillery.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—An explosion occurred in the Barrett tarpaper factory at 2 a. m. yesterday. Several hours later the dead body of Night Engineer James Johnson was found in the building. It is supposed that the pipe of the still clogged up and that he went on top of the still to discover the cause, when the inflammable vapor exploded. He was hurled 20 feet, and his body was terribly mangled.

One Squaw Was Killed.

TUCSON, A. T., Feb. 5.—Authentic advices have reached here of a battle the other day in the Bunker Hill mining district, about 65 miles from Tucson, between Hualapal Clark, a well known ex-United States scout, and a small band of Indians under the leadership of the renegade Kid, which resulted in one squaw being killed. A number of cattlemen and miners are now in pursuit of the Indians.

His Body Found in a River.

FORT KILEY, Kan., Feb. 5.—The body of Charles Mall, a musician of Battery L, who disappeared some weeks ago, was found in the Kaw river yesterday. Mall had been 28 years a soldier and in two years more would have been retired on full pay. It is believed he met with foul play.

Smallpox at South Bend, Ind.

Business Buildings Burned.

GLASGOW, Mo., Feb. 5.—Part of the business portion of this city was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $50,000; insurance, $80,000.

FUNERAL ARRANGED.

Mr. Childs' Entombment Will Take Place Tuesday.

TWO SERVICES WILL BE HELD.

One a Private One at the Residence, to Be Followed by a Public Service at the St. James Church in Philadelphia—The Remains to Be Placed in the Drexel Mausoleum.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—There was probably not a single church in this city in which some touching allusion was not made yesterday to the memory of George W. Childs. At St. James Protestant Episcopal church of which the deceased was a vestryman an eloquent tribute was paid by the pastor, Rev. Joseph N. Blanchard.

There were few callers at the house yesterday, and these consisted of intimate friends of the family.

The arrangements for the funeral are nearly completed. There will be brief private services at the residence, to be followed by a public service at St. James church at 1 o'clock on Tuesday. Bishop Potter of New York, for many years an intimate friend of Mr. Childs, will officiate. He will be assisted by Bishop Whitaker of Philadelphia and Rev. Dr. Blanchard the pastor of the church.

The remains will be temporarily interred in the Drexel mausoleum at Woodland cemetery, the body to be placed in the catacomb, next to the one occupied by the remains of the late A. J. Drexel, the business partner and boon companion of Mr. Childs.

The employees of The Public Ledger will attend the funeral in a body.

The list of honorary pallbearers is nearly completed, but Joseph W. Paul, who is in charge of the arrangements, will not announce the names until he has received acceptances. There will be about 30 names on the list.

Arrangements are being made for special trains from New York and Washington to accommodate those who expect to attend the funeral. It has not been officially announced, but it is expected that President Cleveland, with the members of his cabinet, and several senators and congressmen will attend.

A meeting of the employees of The Public Ledger was held yesterday afternoon. Colonel M. Richards Muckle, who has been employed on the paper over 30 years, acted as chairman. Addresses were made and a minute, attesting to the esteem in which the deceased had been held, was adopted. The minute is as follows:

"The employees of The Public Ledger, having lost by the death of George W. Childs one who has stood to them in the relation of a kind and considerate father, find it impossible to express in formal resolutions a due sense of their great loss, but, nevertheless, seek to record in this minute their high appreciation of his character as it has been revealed to them in daily intercourse. He was the embodiment of kindness and benevolence; his broad sympathy made him a citizen of the world, and not merely those associated with him socially and in business, but humanity itself, lost a generous friend and noble exemplar by his death.

"It would be unjust to his memory, however, to allow it to be supposed that the most obvious characteristic of his nature—the possession of a sympathetic heart that knew no impulses that were not kindly—was his sole claim to distinction. He was broad-minded and helpful in every way. All his writings and publications were well considered efforts to uplift humanity; to promote 'peace on earth, good will to men'; to strengthen and succor the downfallen; to help and encourage the ambitious. He was a philanthropist, it is true, but he was more than that, he was a guide, counselor and friend to all who came within the scope of his wide reaching influence.

"Of Mr. Childs it may be said as he said of Mr. Drexel: 'We to whom he gave so much that was vital, such as affection, friendship, faith, can scarcely think of him as dead, but rather as one who has gone into more life, into a fuller, better life than he ever knew, as one that we shall happily meet in that far country.'"

YOUNG BOY RUNS AMUCK.

An Old Man Shot Down For Refusing to Buy Him a Drink.

HAZLETON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Crazed with drink, Alexander Marchunopsis, a 15-year-old Poland, ran wildly up Broad street yesterday afternoon terrorizing women and children coming from Sunday school. When he reached the corner of Vine street, he met Nathan Srurver, aged 65 years. He ordered the latter to get him a drink at once.

Upon Srurver's refusing, the boy drew a revolver and fired two shots in quick succession, both of which took effect in the old man's breast. Srurver fell unconscious. Assistance arrived in time to prevent the boy firing another shot into the prostrate form. The boy says that he attended a dance Saturday night and was poisoned. Srurver will die.

Woman Horribly Murdered.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 5.—The seventh murder in this vicinity since Jan. 1 was committed Saturday night, a woman named Allester being the latest victim. She went to a saloon in the northwest part of the town kept by a Frenchman named Edward Bouissant and there the murder was committed. Yesterday morning an ore hauler saw a body lying in a hollow by the Missouri Pacific track and an investigation revealed that it was terribly mutilated. Bouissant, his wife and son are in jail charged with the crime. Tracks in the snow were found leading from Bouissant's saloon to the place where the body was found.

Generally fair weather; warmer; winds shifting to south.

The editor of the Ledger appears to be sucking a great deal of consolation out of the result of the special election in two Congressional districts in New York last week. Well, he needs something to comfort him just about this time.

One of the strongest advocates of the income tax clause of the Wilson bill is the New York World. If it becomes a law the proprietor of the World, Joseph Pulitzer, will have to pay $65,000 a year under its provisions. Mr. Pulitzer doesn't consider his own interests when it comes to great public questions.

The Carlisle Mercury very pertinently and truthfully says: "If Louisville wants a law compelling electric railway companies to place their wires under ground, well and good, but she should not try to force anything of the kind on the smaller cities of the State."—Sunday Morning Call.

This very "pertinent and truthful" comment appeared in the EVENING BULLETIN January 26th. The Mercury copied it without giving credit, and now our sprightly neighbor catches on. The item may shortly appear credited to a half dozen other Kentucky papers.

The Wilson bill has passed the House. Now just watch the wheels—stand still.—Public Ledger.

On the day the Ledger published this, a special from Elwood, Ind., says at a meeting held by the directors of the Diamond Plate Glass and American Tin-plate factories it was decided to start one more furnace going at the plate glass factory, requiring one hundred more men. Relative to the tin-plate factory, it was decided to double its capacity, making it a ten-mill plant with an output of 1,000 boxes of tin-plate per day. Work will be begun at once on the buildings. "Now just watch the wheels."

FREE COAL.

The lamented Garfield voted in 1871 to place coal on the free list. So did Hon. Charles Foster, Secretary of the Treasury under President Harrison. Mr. Wheeler, afterwards Vice President, did likewise, and Mr. Frye, now a Senator from Maine, followed suit. All these were, or are, distinguished Republicans. There is less reason now for a tariff on coal than there was in 1871. It was brought out during the recent debate of the Wilson bill that America is the largest exporter of coal of any nation in the world, our coals going into every quarter of the globe. Canada has a tariff on coal, yet we pay the export duty and sell to her more than a million tons annually. An interest that can out-sell similar industries in foreign countries needs no protection.

A GOOD YEAR FOR THE COTTON MILLS.

The St. Louis Republic shows, by indisputable statistics, that the cotton mills of the South are prospering, and will continue to prosper without Government protection. The cotton mills of the East are equally well able to stand alone. Last year was a bad one, they say, on account of the panic, and yet the cotton factories of New England made handsome profits, almost without exception. The cotton mill dividends paid in one town alone amounted to $1,882,450. Of the fifty-six mills in Fall River, only seven earned less than 6 per cent. net, and one of these paid a 20 per cent. dividend on a capital of $300,000. The average for the fifty-six mills, owned by thirty-four companies, was about 8 per cent.

THE POTTERS AND THE TARIFF.

The makers of crockery and pottery ware at Trenton were allowed an increase of five per cent. in duty by the McKinley bill, but strangely enough the Trenton pottery trust made a reduction of 22 per cent. in wages within ninety days after the law went into effect. In almost every instance, says the Philadelphia Times, of increased duty a decreased per cent. has followed in wages. The great pottery strike at Trenton ended in a settlement at seven per cent. and this settlement was considerably allowed by a pottery trust that in 1891, the year before the McKinley bill became a law, shared profits of $410,000 among five members. Perhaps the Trenton pottery workers are thinking on truths that fashion in this way. If they are not they must be signing petitions to keep up the war tariff and keep down their wages as the situation proves.

THE LEGISLATURE.

What Was Done in the General Assembly of Kentucky Last Saturday.

In the House Saturday the bill to provide for free turnpikes was reported from the Committee on Internal Improvements, a substitute being offered by the committee in lieu thereof. The bill empowers the Fiscal Court to obtain control of these roads in case the people of the county, at a special election to be held for that purpose, vote in favor of a system of free turnpikes.

The bill amending the law in regard to the State Board of Health came up for final passage, and Mr. Lyons, the Campbell County member, objected to the provision which fixes the salary of the Secretary of the Board at $1,200 per annum. The bill was passed.

The House passed the Senate bill in regard to Trustees of the Jury Fund, and the bill in regard to the vacancies in the office of Circuit Judge.

Up to date four bills have become laws, and the executive table is clear. Those which have reached the Governor, and have been approved, are the Senate bills relating to liens; for preventing printing and distributing of obscene literature, an act in relation to gravel roads and turnpikes, and the House bill to allow Circuit Judges to appoint special bailiffs in certain cases.

The joint Committee on Charitable Institutions has decided, after a long discussion, to report favorably a bill carrying special appropriations of $65,000 each for the Central and Western Lunatic Asylums, and $16,500 for the Danville Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. An appropriation of $30,000 for the lunatic asylum at Lexington was stricken out.

Religious Awakening.

Church workers in New York think that a tidal wave of religion has been fairly launched in the United States and is fairly settling over New York and Brooklyn. Revival meetings are being held in more than half of the churches in Brooklyn, and ministers in New York are joining the crusade.

The great interest being manifested by the people in religion is accepted by church-workers as a direct result of the "hard times." In the past periods of great financial depression have been accompanied or closely followed by seasons of great religious elation. In 1857 this was particularly true, but all who are watching the course of present events predict even more enormous gains to christianity in 1894 than occurred then.

Internal Revenue Collections.

The collections in the Seventh Internal Revenue district for the month of January were as follows:

Liquor.....	$ 442 02
Beer.....	46 25
Spirits.....	213 26
Cigars.....	944 70
Tobacco.....	1,228 32
Special packages.....	352 09

Total.....$216,275 68

This is a gain over December of $70,091.19. The large increase is due to the taking out of bond of large quantities of the three-year-old whisky.

Deputy Collector Baldwin reports the following for the month:

Spirits.....	$ 9,519 30
Cigars.....	739 65
Tobacco.....	251 52
Special tax.....	37 50

The Revival at Mitchell Chapel.

The manifestation of God's power at Mitchell Chapel has been wonderful since Saturday. Last night there were ten conversions and four additions. The baptism and reception of members yesterday morning, conducted by Rev. J. Reeves, was a most impressive service. A host of communicants partook of the sacrament. Saturday and Sunday there were twelve additions and fifteen conversions. The services have lasted fourteen days and have resulted in thirty additions and thirty-six conversions. The churches all over the town are warming up under God's power, and a tidal wave of salvation threatens to sweep over the whole city. Services each day this week at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by Mr. George W. Blatterman, County Superintendent.

MILLWOOD—DISTRICT NO. 23.

The trustees are O. B. Thomas, C. C. Cook, W. T. Hall. Teacher, W. W. Cook. We found this school in a flourishing condition—new furniture and everything very comfortable about the house. Mr. Cook's classes gave evidence of careful training. His methods are good, especially in training young children in arithmetic by the object method. He governs his school with ease, and the scholars seemed earnest and interested in their studies.

HELENA—DISTRICT NO. 24.

Trustees are Thomas Collins, John S. Rose, Samuel Hall. Teacher, C. W. Harrison. Number of scholars in attendance forty-eight, which is very satisfactory. Mr. Harrison is a good teacher, well qualified and very earnest in his work. The work of a class in arithmetic upon the blackboard was very satisfactory. The scholars were very orderly and well behaved, and their scholarship in general showed result of skillful training. I was pleased to recognize a young friend whom I have known from infancy in Miss Etta Miner, a very lovely young girl, and who ranks with the highest in her classes. The school house is a very good one and in good condition, but not large enough for this district. An addition will be built and ready for the opening of the next session—September, 1894. We were delightfully entertained at the hospitable home of Mr. Wm. Luttrell, and we found such a lovely home, rendered so attractive by the reign of such a sweet wife and mother that we were beguiled with prolonging our visit.

HELENA COLORED SCHOOL—DISTRICT NO. 108.

The trustees are James Griffey, John Small, Watty Thomas. Teacher is Rev. P. McFarlane. He is a teacher with large experience, and has the confidence of the community in general where he resides. He is faithful and conscientious. The condition of the school house is wretched, and if the trustees hope to retain this teacher they must provide a better house, for he can not carry on his work satisfactorily in such a poor house. G. W. BLATTERMAN, Sup't.

"BLACK KNOT."

Provisions of Mr. Matthews' Bill, Which is of Interest to Fruit Growers.

Brief mention was made some days ago of the bill introduced in the Legislature by Representative Matthews to prevent the spread of the disease known as "black knot" in plum, cherry and other trees. The bill has passed the House and is now before the Senate.

The bill makes it unlawful for any person to "knowingly or wilfully" keep any plum, cherry or other trees infected with the disease. The infected trees are declared a public nuisance, and no damages shall be awarded against any one for removing or destroying such a tree.

In any county in which said contagious disease exists, or where there is good reason to believe it exists, or danger may be justly apprehended of its introduction, it shall be the duty of the County Judge, upon application signed by at least three freeholders, residents of the county, to appoint three competent freeholders, who are residents of said county, and who are also fruit growers, as commissioners, who shall hold office during the pleasure of said County Judge.

It shall be the duty of the commissioners, or any one of them, whenever it comes to their notice that the disease, exists or is supposed to exist, to proceed to examine the trees and if the disease is found to exist, a distinguishing mark or marks shall be placed upon that part or those parts of every tree so infected, which, in the judgment of the commissioners, should be removed and destroyed; or if in the judgment of such commissioner or commissioners any tree so infected should be entirely removed and destroyed, then the trunk of such tree shall be girdled, and a written notice given to the owner. The notice shall contain an order to effectually remove and destroy by fire the part or parts of every tree so marked and designated, or every such tree entire which shall be so girdled, as the case may be, within ten days from the date of the notice.

Whenever any person shall refuse or neglect to comply with the order it shall become the duty of the commissioners to carry out the directions of said order, and forthwith to remove and destroy by fire every tree or part of tree so girdled or marked as aforesaid, the expenses for removal and destruction to be a charge against the county.

If any owner neglects to remove and destroy every tree, or part of tree, so found to be infected, and marked or girdled as aforesaid, after notification, and within the time prescribed, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine not exceeding $25, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ten days, or both, in discretion of the court.

The commissioners shall be allowed for services $2 each for each full day and $1 each for one-half day, and other reasonable charges and disbursements. Such fees and all reasonable charges and disbursements may be recovered by the county in its own name from the owner of the diseased trees.

CINCINNATI ENQUIRER: "A principle topic of conversation the first of the week was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Nannie B. Jones, daughter of the late George W. Jones, to Mr. Ben Thomas, of Chattanooga, who is well known here. Society seems to thoroughly approve the engagement, and congratulations are being showered upon the couple. The wedding takes place the last of February."

JACOB T. STOVER.

He Was Found Dead in Bed at the City Aims House This Morning.

Jacob T. Stover was found dead in bed at the city aims house early this morning. He had been an inmate of the institution for some time, and when he failed to make his appearance at the usual hour, parties went to his room to call him. The door was locked, and not getting any response to the call, the parties entered the room and found him cold in death.

He had been in feeble health for several weeks. On Saturday he was down town and spent some time at Messrs. Alexander & Best's livery stable office, where he generally made his headquarters. He was suffering from an attack of grip, and was feeling very bad. To Mr. Alexander he spoke of his condition and said he thought the end was near.

Deceased was seventy-one years old, and had been a resident of Maysville since 1873. He was a dealer in cattle and hogs, and was worth at one time $10,000 or $12,000. He met with reverses, however, and lost all. Sickness added to his other troubles. He was a native of Virginia, and had a brother and two grandchildren living somewhere in the Piedmont Valley. They offered him a home with them when they learned of his reduced circumstances, but he declined it for some cause or other.

Coroner Roe held an inquest this morning, the verdict being that deceased died from natural causes.

The funeral will occur some time tomorrow, probably in the afternoon.

AN ORANGE SEED

Caused the Death of Miss Lucia Goodpaster at Lexington Last Week.

Brief mention was made Saturday of the death of Miss Lucia Goodpaster, a grand-niece of Mr. Thomas Wells of this city, at Lexington last Thursday night. The Daily Press says: "Few deaths have occurred in Lexington as distressing as the death of Miss Goodpaster. She was a pupil of Hamilton College and about a week ago was taken unaccountably ill. She grew no better and a few days ago was removed to the infirmary. All the efforts of the physicians failed. Her death was due to what is technically called appendicitis, which is the term applied to the inflammation of the vermiform appendix. This trouble is caused by the lodging of some hard substance in the appendix and which in many cases causes death. The deceased is supposed to have swallowed an orange seed."

A surgical operation was performed Thursday by Drs. Barrow and Skillman, in hopes of saving the young lady's life, but it was found that the obstruction in the appendix had caused an internal abscess, which had broken through the lining of the appendix, and had resulted in peritonitis.

The pupils of Hamilton College attended the funeral service, at Lexington, in a body, and as they took a last look at the one they all loved each dropped a lily in the bier as a token of affection.

Elliot's Vast Mining Scheme.

Sir George Elliot, Bart., has a great scheme in view. He proposes to effect the nationalization of the coal lands of England, Scotland and Wales by the formation of a gigantic trust to control them all. The trust is to be governed by a central representative council elected by the different coal districts on a basis of the number of tons of coal produced.

SIR GEORGE ELLIOT, BART.

duced and the districts to be managed by local committees of a co-operative nature, elected in a fixed proportion by the shareholders and the miners. The price of coal is to be regulated by the government, and liberal wages are to be paid the miners. A majority of two-thirds of the coal owners and lessees would be required to insure the inauguration of the scheme, which, it has been estimated, would require a capital of $550,000,000. Sir George Elliot, the father of the project, is well known in England as a man who has made his way from being a pit laddie to a position of wealth and influence.

It is said that a fifth boat will be added to the fleet, and further that it will not be the C. W. Batchelor, but that a boat from the Lower Ohio will be purchased. SMOTHERED THE LITTLE GIRL.

Stone, the Wratten Butcher, Confesses to Another Diabolical Crime.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 5.—This city is again horror stricken with another of James E. Stone's confessions of the Wratten murder. A few days ago Stone's father, wife and children visited him at the Jeffersonville prison to bid him a last farewell.

Stone's father now tells of a most shocking and cold blooded crime of which his son claims he is guilty. Little 13-year-old Ethel, the only one of the family who was not killed instantly, and who it was thought would recover, was taken to a neighbor's immediately after the murder. Everything was done to save her life.

A few days after Murderer Stone, then not suspected, went to where Ethel was being cared for and took a seat near the bedside. At dinner time he was asked to take dinner with the family. But refused, saying he would stay and fan the little sufferer. While the family were at dinner he placed an apron over her nose and mouth and smothered the unconscious child to death.

This confession is a surprise to every one, as none had even dreamed of the child coming to her death in this manner. He also told his aged father that he would not hang on the day set, and intimated that at the 11th hour he would tell who assisted him in the horrible massacre, and would be wanted as a witness.

BATTLE IN MEXICO.

A Revolutionary Priest and Ten of His Followers Killed.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 5.—Father Caspaneta, the revolutionary priest, has finally lost his life while in the act of leading armed forces against the government in the mountainous regions of the state of Mexico. It will be remembered that he was one of the leaders in the recent revolutionary movement which resulted so ingloriously in the state of Guerrero. He was captured along with General Canuto Neri, and placed in solitary confinement in Belem prison.

He was in prison only a few days when he made his escape and in some unaccountable manner found refuge among Catholic sympathizers of the state of Mexico, where he quietly worked up a strong feeling against the government and organized a force of about 100 men. With this small army he made an attack upon a hacienda in the state of Mexico and secured a large lot of supplies. They were pursued and retaken by a troop of cavalry commanded by Colonel Solin, and in the fight that followed the priest was killed. Ten of his followers were also killed.

The Utes Want to Go West.

DENVER, Feb. 4.—Chief Ignacio of the southern Utes passed through Denver last night en route to Washington to testify at the hearing Feb. 10 on the question of the removal of the southern Utes from their reservation in Colorado to the eastern part of Utah. The chief says the Utes all want to go west, and are becoming restless on account of the delay in carrying out the treaty. The game in the southern part of Colorado is about exhausted, and the Indians are pining for the hunting ground in Utah where game is abundant and white people are not numerous.

BANDITS EVANS AND MORRELL.

Two Deputy Sheriffs Discover Them, but Fail to Make a Capture.

FRESNO, Cal., Feb. 5.—A fight occurred between the bandits Evans and Morrell and Deputy Sheriffs Timmins and Boyd, in Slippery Rock country, about 20 miles east of Dinuba, yesterday afternoon. Officers were looking for the bandits in that neighborhood and were riding in a cart.

When they got near the place of a rancher named Robinson, Timmins alighted and started in the direction of the house. He had only gone a short distance when Evans and Morrell came out of St. Clair's house, nearby, and immediately opened fire upon the officers. The latter had the advantage of being separated and could have raked the bandits from both sides, as Evans and Morrell were in a line between them. Instead, it is reported, the officers took to flight, the bandits diligently firing upon them. After the officers had fled some distance, they returned a few shots, without, however, ceasing to fly. Timmins and Boyd in their flight became separated, the former finally turning up at Dinuba and the latter at Reedley.

Timmins telephoned the news of the fight to Sheriff Scott who started for Sanger yesterday evening with Deputy Rapelje. The robbers fired about 25 shots and officers a half dozen.

Another report has it that the officers made a bold stand, but were under a disadvantage, as the bandits were under cover. No further particulars can be got here at present.

Memoirs of the Prince de Joinville.

The Prince de Joinville recently completed his memoirs, and they will soon be given to the world. They ought to make interesting reading, for the prince has seen much of the world in the 75 years of his life.

He has some new stories to relate. It is said, of the court of his father, Louis Philippe. His account of his experiences in the French navy, in PRINCE DE JOINVILLE, which he rose to the rank of vice admiral, should be very valuable, and it will be interesting to note his opinions of America.

At Vera Cruz he captured General Arista, and he served with distinction at Mogadore, in Morocco. He begged for employment in any capacity with the army of France in the Franco-Prussian war, and under the title of Colonel Luthero did a little fighting for his country. Gambetta was afraid of his influence, however, and banished him from France, but he was soon back again and was elected to the assembly. In 1886 he was banished again, and his name was stricken from the rolls of the navy.
